

HOUSEHOLD BUDGET COURSE IS OFFERED

Vocational Work to be Extended to Benefit Many Unemployed Girls in City.

Supt. Montgomery of the city schools has seized the opportunity to bring about extended work by the vocational classes already established in the various schools for scores of unemployed girls in South Bend. The plan for extending the classes was discussed Wednesday evening at a meeting of the advisory committee on household arts. If sufficient interest is taken by the girls who will be sought to take up the work, it is planned to open day classes for them. Invitations to join the classes will be issued by the vocational department within the next few days.

In discussing the project Thursday morning Supt. Montgomery said many of the girls will soon be at a marriageable age and with homes of their own to care for.

"Doubtless," he said, "many of them will at the beginning take up the burden of caring for a home on an income ranging from $12 to $20 per week. Instruction to be obtained at the vocational classes will be of great advantage, especially the course in budget making or household economy. Instruction in cooking and sewing will also be given, which should be welcomed by these girls."

Dr. N. F. Book of Indianapolis, in charge of the vocational work over the state, arrived Wednesday evening and met with the vocational advisory board. He also visited the printing department in the Jefferson building and later viewed the work being done by the boys' vocational class at the Oliver school. A young "gang" of carpenters is erecting a portable school under the direction of H. M. Appleman. Already the foundation and sides are up. The boys are now busy putting up the rafters preparatory to putting on the roof.

Dr. Book will visit the household arts class at the Coquillard school Thursday night.

Supt. Montgomery announced that a new class will be formed at the Muesel school next Thursday.

J.M. Studebaker, in Interview Commends Y.M.C.A. Campaign to South Bend Citizens

J. M. Studebaker of the Studebaker Co., which gave the Y. M. C. A. building to South Bend, declared Thursday that the association needs the support of every Christian citizen of South Bend and asserted that he will use all his influence to make the campaign being waged by the association a great success.

"One of the biggest assets of which South Bend can boast is her Y. M. C. A.," declared he. "From a business standpoint it is well worth having in South Bend. It raises the moral standard of the city and community, makes cleaner business men and necessarily it affords a better city in which to live."

"If a better South Bend can be afforded and eventually a bigger South Bend with increased business opportunities, than every business man can well afford to invest the amount of one membership in the organization. A campaign has been started to increase the membership of the institution. More boys and young men should use the building for it is large enough to afford considerable more entertainment than is now being given."

"Team captains and workers are undertaking a big job. Every man should do his duty. If you will furnish me with legs, we will go round up the bunch and will change the hearts of hundreds of men toward the institution."

Value of Good Citizenship.
"Good citizenship means honesty in high places, a prosperous and law abiding community, moderate taxation and a city beautiful. The young fellows who grow up under Y. M. C. A. influences will develop character, and men of character are the reliance and safeguard of the republic. Some of our most thoughtful and well advised men feel apprehensive for the future of our country. They see breakers ahead. It looks at times as though hatred of safe, sane law and of authority compelling the observance of ages old recognized rights, was on the increase."

"If the forces of passion and anarchy ever gain the ascendancy among us, it will be a day of calamity for the United States, the extent of which I do not like to think about. The safety of a republic lies in the intelligence and character of its citizens."

"It follows that every agency for education and character-building must be heartily supported. God speed accordingly to the laborers of the Y. M. C. A. It is vitally important that every worker lend his utmost efforts toward bringing about the success of the campaign by working with might and main and that every business man stand back of the movement and support it by joining the institution which means so much for South Bend."

AGED DERELICT FINDS HOME IN CINCINNATI

Eugene Trudelle Will be Cared for by Little Sisters of the Poor.

Eugene Trudelle the decrepit old man who drifted into the city several weeks ago friendless and penniless and after a fruitless search for a place to stay was taken to the Salvation Army industrial home to remain temporarily, boarded a Lake Shore train Thursday morning bound for Cincinnati where he will be received in the home for old people conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor. The home was found for him through the efforts of the Associated Charities.

The old man came to South Bend from Iowa where he had been living with friends, but when hard times came he was turned out with only a few dollars in his pocket. With this sum he came to South Bend in search of another friend of whose exact whereabouts he was uncertain. Failing to find him and being without money, he finally went to the county farm but because he had not been a resident of this county he was sent away from there to the Warsaw institution refused him admission and he was returned to South Bend. It was then that he was picked up on the street and taken to the Salvation Army home.

He is 85 years old and ill and begged for a place to stay where he might be sure of a bed and food. The case was placed in the hands of the Associated Charities and after finding that he had worked in Cincinnati the Little Sisters of the Poor were appealed to and agreed to take the old man.

Sterling was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Detective Cassidy upon complaint of the American Credit Jewelry Co. He was alleged by that concern to have purchased a watch upon payment and to have pawned it in a local pawnshop.

Other men who declare themselves to have been victimized are Charles Hagedorn, 35; Jacob Hoffman, 15; Harry Greenblatt, 18; Y. M. C. A., 15. The latter debt, it is said, has been made good by Sterling. All checks were drawn upon the American Trust Co. and Sterling has no money in that bank, it is claimed.

NEED ASSISTANT NURSE

Dispensary Association Discusses Charity Federation Plan.

E. L. Kuhns and Richard Ellbel spoke to the directors of the Dispensary association Wednesday afternoon at its regular meeting in regard to the federation of the charities, outlining phases of the plan. A report of the year's finances was read by Miss Ann DuShane, treasurer of the association, and a discussion of the budget to be appropriated for the dispensary followed.

A committee was appointed by the president, Mrs. E. G. Ketting, to submit to the federation officers a list of 100 names of members of the association who may be possible workers in the campaign for funds. The committee consists of Miss Nell Haugen, Miss Eldonna Lantz and Mrs. Ketting.

It was brought out in the monthly meeting that Miss Olive Bailey, the dispensary nurse, has done in the past year just twice as much work as the nurses of the larger dispensaries and that an assistant for her is imperative. She has cared for 200 cases in the past year while no one dispensary nurse in Indianapolis handled more than 100.

The election of officers to have been held Wednesday was postponed.
